

Investcorp Capital

Earnings slip 8% y/y in Q1 as it increases its leverage and continues with its high payout. Higher leverage to drive positive carry.

- Net profit slipped by 8% y/y on muted fair value gains, with earnings affected by increased borrowing costs (up from USD 3m to USD 6m) as it taps into the RCF facility. However, we expect higher deployment to drive EPS and RoE in the coming years, with fair value adjustment usually recorded in Q2 and especially in Q4.

- The company has a solid track record in originating assets with credit costs and loss ratios significantly below industry averages. Moreover, the company has a low-cost base of 40bps assets and a C/I of <10% (through a master agreement), ensuring almost full pass-through of accrued earnings.

- It trades at 0.81x P/tNAV 24e vs RoE of 8% in FY25e. We maintain our TP of AED 2.43, offering 21% upside. Catalysts: lower interest rates, capital deployment, growth of the parent company, improving RoE/EPS trajectory, and value discovery.

Operating income (+5% y/y) was bolstered by CFS revenue. ICAP report a Gross Operating Income of USD18 m, up +5% y/y, on (i) 38% y/y growth in CFS revenues (-31% q/q potentially driven by an uptick in deal flows and volume resulting in greater syndication) supported by higher RCF utilisation which reached 28.5% in Q1 25 vs 16.5% for Q4 24. Meanwhile, the CDS segment income declined by (-22%y/y & -85% q/q) to USD 7m based on the timing of fair value recognition from CI investments, as no fair value gains were recorded in Q1 25 (vs xx in Q1 24). Operating costs declined by 50% y/y to USD 1m, with C/I of <10% through a master agreement with the parent, ensuring an extremely low-cost base of 40bps of NAV for FY25e, with Q1 annualised at just xx bps. All in all, net profit slipped by 8% to USD 12m vs. USD 13m, impacted by increased financing costs to USD 6m (+100% y/y vs. -14% q/q) associated with higher RCF utilisation to 28.5%, from 16.5% over the past quarter.

We pencil in significant EPS and RoE expansion in the coming years, with ICAP to improve the positive carry to 6% over the next 2-3 years. We pencil in 100bps lower rates for FY25e and 75bps for FY26e, reducing SOFR by 175bps to c3.5% by YE26e. With the company paying SFOR + 250bps, its finance costs should drop materially from over 8% to 6% FY27e, reducing carrying costs. This will allow ICAP to bolster earnings and RoE significantly, as we expect it to utilise USD 700m over the next four years, with earnings set to improve by c.USD 40m. Moreover, we expect the IRR of its assets in the CI segment to strengthen from an IRR of 2%-3% to a 14%-15% return hurdle due to increased deal flow and higher exit multiple environments as interest rates drop to neutral levels.

NAV slipped by 3.1% q/q: (USD -44m to USD 1.42bn in Q1) due to dividends, including USD 55m in dividend payments to the Investcorp Group. However, the group can waive their dividends, while the other shareholders are entitled to a minimum of 8% of the year-end NAV. Financing liabilities surged to USD 228m (+72.7% q/q) from RCF utilisation as ICAP funded its growing underwriting and deployment activities in its CFS segment. Higher RCF utilisation aligns with management's strategy to leverage low-cost financing for expansion across the Capital Financing Services (CFS) segment to benefit from the positive carry amidst rising deals from and improving macro tailwinds. However, total liabilities declined 5.5% q/q to USD273m, driven by a substantial reduction in payables by: (-71.3% q/q to USD 45m) in Q1 25 from the unfunded deals from the CFS segment.

Buy on a dividend yield of c.9.5% (Based on FY24 dividend) and attractive valuation with the discount to NAV at c.15%. We anticipate an FY25e dividend payment of USD 117m based on the year-end NAV of USD 1426bn, implying a payout of 102% and DY of 9.7% based on FY 25e earnings of USD 115m (vs 110% payout in FY 24A). Downside risks: Interest rate expectations have risen fairly sharply (with trough rates at 3.5% instead of below 3%), reducing the benefits of lower finance costs. High dividend payouts (~87%) limit retained earnings and reinvestment capacity, increasing reliance on external financing.

Abacus Arqaam Capital Fundamental Data

Investment thesis

Investcorp Capital (ICAP) is a carveout of Investcorp Group, which is the Bahraini-based largest alternative asset manager in the MENA region with an AUM of USD 52 bn FY23 and aims to achieve an AUM of USD 100bn FY27. Investcorp Group was founded in 1982 to provide global opportunities for its GCC clients. Investcorp Group has 4000 active GCC clients, including family offices, banks, and 300 global institutional clients. Despite Macro headwinds, Investcorp Group raised USD 7.4bn FY22 and successfully placed 80% of their deals.

AUM under private markets reached 13.1 trillion FY23, and it is expected to reach USD 23.3 trillion FY27, growing at a CAGR of 9.3%. Aggregate fundraising has become challenging due to macro-backdrops, higher interest rates and uncertainty, which has slowed the deal flow. However, it was reported in a survey conducted by Preqin c. that 95% of alternative asset managers plan to increase their allocation to private assets over the long term despite near-term headwinds due to higher long-term returns in private markets vs public markets.

ICAP has two operating segments: CFS (Capital Financing Services) and CDS (Capital Deployment Services). In the CFS business, ICAP holds, finances, and disposes of the investments across four underlying asset classes, which are CI (Corporate Investments), RE (Real Estate), and GC (Global Credit). Whereas Investcorp Group manages, governs, and arranges for the syndication of the underlying period. In the CDS segment, ICAP generates revenue in two forms: i) Cash yield and recurring revenue and ii) Net gain/loss on the net exposure within the CD business upon realisation or when revalued.

Investment thesis

ICAP benefits from its association with Investcorp Group, which is a top-tier alternative investment platform in the MENA region. Investcorp group affords access to adviser resources, tapping into Investcorp's deep bench of sector experts and investment professionals globally.

Effective dividend yield of 8%, multilayered income profile and diversified regional exposure.

Investcorp is well positioned as the leading regional MENA player, positioning itself to capture secular growth trends in private markets. Private markets offer higher returns over longer horizons than their public market peers.

Downside risks:

- Interest rate expectations have risen sharply (with trough rates at 3.5% instead of below 3%), reducing the benefits of lower finance costs.
- High dividend payouts (~87%) limit retained earnings and reinvestment capacity, increasing reliance on external financing.
